

Rochelle Wilkinson (nee Wilchcombe) was born in Nassau, Bahamas, but grew up and received her primary and secondary education in Freeport, Grand Bahama (which she still considers “home”).

Rochelle earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Management from Barry University, in Miami Shores, Florida.

She has spent the past 35 years working in the commercial banking industry in various supervisory and management roles. Currently, she is the Manager of Commercial Lending and Private Wealth at Commonwealth Bank.

Rochelle has served on the Board of the Cancer Society of The Bahamas since 2010 and she presently serves in the capacity of the Vice President